Interagency Fair Lending Examination Procedures, examiners from the five federal banking regulators are to (1) evaluate the institutions overall fair lending compliance program, including management commitment and resources devoted to preventing violations, and (2) determine if the institution has, in fact, violated the fair lending laws by, among other tasks, reviewing lending policies and practices and testing the institutions actual lending record for specific types of discrimination, such as underwriting discrimination in consumer and business loans or pricing discrimination in mortgage or automobile lending. FRBs SSBF is one of the principal sources of information available on the FRBs Survey of Small factors that affect the availability of credit for small businesses. FRB has Business Finances conducted the SSBF about every 5 years from 1987 through 2003 from a nationwide sample of small businesses of varying sizes, locations, and ownership characteristics. The most recent survey (2003) gathered data from 4, 240 firms...
